

I : Alpha Centauri

In the depths of deep space
Lies another world
And if we try hard enough
We can lift the veil

This place is shrouded in mystery
The depths of which are sealed
You're a man of the cloth
You know of what I speak

Uncovering secrets
Is well within my field
For I am an Egyptologist
Seeking truth and knowledge to wield

If you choose adventure
Evil will seek you out
"Justice is my dagger!"
I scream and shout

I know they're hot on my heels
And time is running out
I must get to the bottom of this
For everything will be lost if I fail

II : Egypt

My quest begins in Egypt
With the Ancients as my guide
They left here clues
To the greatest mystery of all time

Who built this place?
Where did it come from?
What does it mean?
Who built this place?
Where did it come from?
Why is it here?
First I shall question the locals
To see which direction to steer
They tell me of a man named Cyphus
They tell me he is near
I must find him
The man is a legend, a snake, a God;
In charge of an ancient order
The Guardian of Giza will not easily give up his secret
But I have a plan to convince him
Went down to the place where they last saw his face
I spot Cyphus
A chase gives way, a tackle is made, a knife is drawn
He surrenders before I draw his blood
STOP!
Here I stand within the Hall of Records
Far beneath the Sphinx
Truth bleeds from the walls
Scorpions dance and pharaohs sing
Rejoicing in my find

I dust off a book, and gasp at what's revealed
What does this all mean?
What secrets lay buried beneath the sand?
What else does Egypt hold that it doesn't want known?
There's more...

III : Cydonia

There's a place on Mars
Where there's a face that is carved
A coincidence?
I think not

There's a tie between
The Red Planet and Egypt
An ancient city named Cydonia

What once was lost
Now has been found
Secrets thought long gone

On the surface long ago
They built great pyramids
Remnants still linger on

Pictures tell of an ancient race
When they were forced to leave their place
And come to Earth and give birth to
A new race and build shrines

They built the three walled wonders
To pay homage to their land
The pieces are coming together slowly
But there are still more holes

A new hope for man
A new hope for us all
When they settled on this world
A chance to start again

I turn the page once more
And see a picture of a cup
Not just any cup – It's The Holy Grail
"It does exist," I say
Its location marked in ink
And to England I must go

IV : The Isle of Avalon

(tuning EADGGE)

In the south of England lies a town
Glastonbury is its name
The Grail is here, but where?

Legend told of Joseph of Arimathea
Hid the Grail here after collecting Christ's blood
And left clues to its location

I walk down a path and spot a church
I am drawn to its beautiful stained glass
Four Apostles depicted in glass, Brother John holds a cup
Could this be the Grail?

I go inside to find it empty
And find a staircase leading down
Naturally I follow it
To see who is around

I find no people, only stone tombs
Much to my despair
But hark, on one stone is inscribed 'John'
I move the lid and start to dig and much to my surprise I find the Grail!

I found the Grail, now what?

I head outside and a big stone tower on a hill catches my eye
It is the Tower Tor and the cup glows as I near
I enter the Tor and in an instant am transported to another realm
Fire and brimstone surround me, it looks to be Hell

V : 666

As I walk forward I hear a voice
"Excellent, you have brought the Grail"
Lucifer, the winged devil flies down from his throne of skulls

"What do you want with the Grail?" I ask
"I require His blood to call upon the Anti-Christ and conquer Heaven"
"You cannot have it" I reply
"Give it to me!"
"NEVER!"

<heavy instrumental break, hissing and a loud background battle wages on>

I swing the Grail at him wildly, defenseless
He laughs, "You cannot defeat me"
I am surrounded by fallen angels and lost souls
I am painfully outnumbered; it's just me and the Grail

Just then a thunder from the heavens arises
It is Michael and a band of angels!

<An epic battle ensues>

A great tremor shakes everything as Hell is brought up to the Earth
The Rapture! I watch in awe as angel battles devil
The sky opens up and God Almighty appears, Christ at his right hand
All is still

"Lucifer!" calls a voice from the heavens
"I cast you down to the depths of hell, and now you will know my true fury"
"Amen!" cry the angels
The Word of God eats at Satan like acid

A horrible scream is let out
Hell is torn apart from the inside out like a rabid dog attacks flesh
Silence
It is over

The angels reassemble
A Great Pyramid descends from the sky

Earth is reborn
To live eternally with its maker
